And now, some updates from our Alumni around the world...

Bashir Adeniyi (2004-2006)

"I'm putting together a spreadsheet with contact details for Pestalozzi Alumni in North America. Attendance at reunion events in UK is a probably a bit lacking in numbers from this area! However, if there is a forum through which we can reach out to other Alumni and gauge their interest in a reunion activity, then we could plan some sort of reunion over here. It will also allow the future graduates coming to America the opportunity to reach out to alumni currently in the area."

Tenzin Tsayang (2005-2007)

"I currently work for a trading company as a Business Analyst in Richmond VA. I just made a donation to Pestalozzi and hope to make regular donations in the future. Frankly, I don't want to call it a 'donation', I have an obligation to do what I can to help provide same incredible opportunity that I got to future generations and no organization is more deserving than my own Pestalozzi!"

Ray Kavuzya (2001-2003)

"I am doing fine and my family is OK: I have two naughty little boys now. Here in Zambia we are in the rainy season and there different strains of flu going round especially at my office everyone seems to be getting it!"

Deji Williams (2004-2006)

"I'm currently working as a Project Analyst at Mobilespread Ltd. Mobilespread provides solutions to the telecoms providers down here. We're currently executing a contract to expand the country's largest network using Fibre-Optic cables. So that's where I come in – I supervise both the civil aspect and the telecoms aspect. It's outside of what I studied, but it's such great experience. I've been working with them for about 7 months now."
